Lauriston School

Home-school reading

As a Federation, we believe that reading is an integral skill to support children's learning across the whole curriculum. Research shows that this is the single most important thing parents can do to help their children's education. Reading regularly at home with parents and carers makes a huge difference to children's reading ability and helps develop a love for reading.

Therefore, we would like to take this opportunity to clearly communicate our expectations in regards to home reading so that the school can work together with parents/carers to support our reading curriculum and inspire a love of reading in every child.

Maths

- Maths is taught using a 'mastery' approach at Lauriston. Maths is taught in units during which new concepts are introduced, carefully represented and learning is built upon in incremental steps throughout the unit.
- Maths concepts taught through the concrete-pictorial-abstract approach.
